Contract management is the process of managing contracts that are made as part of the delivery of a built asset. It involves the creation, analysis and execution of contracts by the parties to those contracts to ensure operational and financial performance is maximised, and risks are minimised. Contract management can be categorised into three phases:

Reviews. This text examines the law governing construction contracts, and the management and administration of those contracts. The study of these aspects of construction law form a core part of most building and construction courses. Revised and updated, the book contains commentary on all key legislation, case law and contract amendments since June 1995.

This 1 day course prepares delegates to proficiently deal with the JCT contracts suite in the construction industry. The revised 2016 JCT contracts are mandatory knowledge for contractors, sub-contractors, project managers, designers and construction professionals, and this course caters to everyone by introducing the whole suite and explaining the 2016 changes.

~~contract and law courses from construction study centre~~

For a book covering "construction", I am amazed that it does not cover the contracts used to construct industrial facilities. General contract law is robustly introduced, the discussion of contract forms is too limited, which is quite an oversight and a shame given the quality of what is covered.
