Upper Dash Pad removal - Car Forums and Automotive Chat

To remove the dash, get about three guys (two inside the car, one outside the car), because that thing weighs about 200 pounds (no *). Lift up the dash and disengage it where it is hooked into the A pillars and carefully pull it back toward you. Once it's free, guide it out the door and have the third guy take it and walk it out of the car.

Has anyone removed the whole top dash pad?

Once the pad was test installed on the dash, a felt tipped marker was used to outline the hole in the dash to the foam on the underside of the new pad. Then the foam was carefully carved out from the bottom up with an exacto knife until it was all the way to the bottom of the vinyl cover.

Start by removing the bolts that hold the pad to the metal dash. They can be hard to find and reach. You may also need to remove some of the trim to release the edge nearest the driver to safely remove the pad. Also be careful not to force the pad too much- the pad may have become slightly bonded to the metal dash frame.
